HOW NOT TO MARRY A PRINCESS

(Jak si nevzít princeznu)

A fairy tale in which three Fates foretell the marriage of a young prince to a princess from the neighbouring kingdom. No one could have expected, though, that the two would not be able to stand each other since childhood. The only thing that the prince and the princess have in common is their desire to get rid of this prophecy. And so, using a stolen magic watch, they travel back in time to the moment when the prince was born to prevent the Fates from making the prophecy. But things don't go according to the plan and the entire kingdom is turned upside down. In order to save it, the two will have to stop thinking only about themselves and learn a lot of new things along the way. Of course, they will change for the better, fall in love and there will be a happy ending – just as the Fates have foretold.
